WHAT IF MY SON BECOMES SICK DURING CAMP?

If your son becomes sick with a contagious condition during camp, you will be called to take him home. A sick child cannot enjoy camp, and keeping him at camp could put other campers and staff at risk.

What We Expect From Our Campers

1—We expect our campers to be on their best behavior. They are now representing the ROY WILLIAMS BASKETBALL CAMP and the UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL PROGRAM.

2— We do not tolerate bad behavior or bullying. We do expect campers to report any bullying to a camp staff member or coach. This will ensure the situation is handled properly so that every camper can have a GREAT CAMP experience.

3— Campers are expected to make their beds, turn off their lights and lock their doors. This will be checked on a daily basis. This is adopted from the Dean Smith Basketball Camp era. A form of discipline called a “TOUR” is given to the camper that does not meet these expectations. It becomes a contest to see which group has the least number of tours—that group is awarded at the end of the camp.

4—We expect campers to be attentive at all times. Our camp staff is in place to ensure campers are following their specific schedule (wake-up call, meal check-in, bus role-call, bed check, lights out). Therefore, campers are expected to be on time.
